North York Concert Orchestra

Now entering its 44th season, the North York Concert Orchestra remains committed to serving musicians and audiences in the North York area. The orchestra has been developing its musical excellence, concert after concert, while keeping in mind the importance of giving our audience a pleasurable listening experience. The result of our efforts are reflected in the choice of repertoire and in the top-class soloists that have collaborated with us recently: Jonathan Crow, concertmaster, and Joseph Johnson, principal cellist of the TSO.

For the 2018-2019 season we are choosing from a varied selection of musical themes. There will be music to appeal to everyone! From music remembering those who served our country in the War, to Beethoven's magnificent Choral Symphony, I am sure you will enjoy every moment of our concerts. Our Prize Winners' Gala will highlight the talents of the best of young players, and the Family Concert with a program designed to appeal to children is always a hit.

Come and join us for our next season. Treat yourself to a wonderful musical experience in a relaxed and always welcoming environment.
