Holland Bloorview Kids Rehabilitation Hospital is North America's largest paediatric rehabilitation hospital where children receive world class care in childhood disability. Some of our families are here for several weeks to months at a time, even over the winter holiday season. Thanks to groups like the North York Concert Orchestra, our families and patients get a reprieve from therapies, medical appointments and the stress of being in a hospital setting to experience the joy of music. The NYCO has performed for us for a number of years, most recently on November 29, 2014 where we had 23 patients plus family and friends enjoy the evening concert. Our atrium was transformed into a gorgeous concert hall as the sound of music filled the hospital!

Patients, families, visitors and staff love the annual NYCO performance as they are top quality, professional and very generous performers! They take pride in all aspects of their performance and go out of their way to engage the viewing audience, providing insight and hands on opportunity to experience the wide variety of instruments. It is rewarding to witness the knowledge exchange between both parties as band members interact with the patients, spreading the gift of music.

We very much look forward to our annual performance and recommend the North York Concert Orchestra to any group looking to experience a wonderful evening of enchanting music!

Sincerely,
